

Cheng Li

Cheng Li is Director of Research and a Senior Fellow at the John L. Thornton China Center in the Foreign Policy Studies Program at the Brookings Institution in Washington, D.C. Dr. Li is also William R. Kenan Professor of Government at Hamilton College and a Director of the National Committee on US-China Relations.

Cheng Li grew up in Shanghai during the Cultural Revolution. In 1985, he came to the United States where he received an M.A. in Asian Studies at the University of California, Berkeley, and a Ph.D. in Political Science at Princeton University. In 1993-95, Dr. Li worked in China as a fellow of the U.S.-based Institute of Current World Affairs, observing grassroots changes in his native country. In China, Dr. Li had the opportunity to interview political and business leaders as well as people from everyday walks of life. Based on this experience, he published a nationally acclaimed book, Rediscovering China: Dynamics and Dilemmas of Reform (1997).

Dr. Li is also the author or the editor of China's Leaders: The New Generation (2001), Bridging Minds Across the Pacific: The Sino-U.S. Educational Exchange 1978-2003 (2005), and China's Changing Political Landscape: Prospects for Democracy (2008). He is currently completing two book manuscripts: Chinese Technocrats and Urban Subcultures in Shanghai. His academic writings have appeared in World Politics, China Quarterly, China Journal, Journal of Asian and African Studies, and other scholarly journals. He is the principal editor of the Thornton Center Chinese Thinkers Series published by the Brookings Institution Press.

He has frequently been called upon to share his unique perspective and insights as an expert on China. He recently appeared on CNN, C-SPAN, BBC, VOA, News Hour with Jim Lehrer, Charlie Rose Show, Foreign Exchange with Fareed Zakaria, and NPR Diane Rehm Show. He has been featured in the New York Times, the Washington Post, the Wall Street Journal, Time, the Economist, Newsweek, Business Week, Foreign Policy and numerous other publications. Dr. Li is also a columnist for the Stanford University Journal, China Leadership Monitor.

Dr. Li has advised a wide range of government, education, research, business and not-for-profit organizations on work in China. Dr. Li is a director of the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations, a trustee of the Institute of Current World Affairs, a member of the Academic Advisory Group of the Congressional U.S.-China Working Group, a member of the Council on Foreign Relations Task Force on U.S. policy toward China, a director and a member of Committee of 100, and a member of the U.S. National Committee of the Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific.
